

Culture	A way of life for a group of people
Culture Region	A region that shares one or more common culture traits.

Culture Traits	Food, clothing, technology, beliefs, language, and tools that the people of a culture share.
-----------------------	---	--

Government	The people and groups within a society that make the laws, enforce the laws and settle disagreements.
--------------------------	--	--

Economics	The study of how resources are managed in the production, exchange, and use of goods and services.
-------------------------	---	--

Architecture	The art and science of designing or constructing buildings or structures.
----------------------------	--	--

Literature	A body of written works.
--------------------------	---------------------------------	--

Philosophical Ideas	Ideas about why the world is the way it is.
Artifacts	An object produced or shaped by human craft, especially a tool, weapon, or ornament of archaeological or historical interest.
Institutions	An organization in a society
Limited Government	A government in which the powers of the leaders limited

Unlimited Government	A government in which the leaders have almost absolute power.
Democracy	A government by the people by direct voting.
totalitarian	A government where absolute powers rest in one person.
communism	An economic and political system in which property is owned collectively and labor is organized in a way that is supposed to benefit all people.

Monarchy	A government ruled by one person usually a King or Queen in which power is inherited.
Distribution	The process of moving products to their markets.
Longitude	A measure of distance east or west of line called the prime meridian.
Latitude	A measure of distance north or south of the equator	